

Fees Nordic Swan Ecolabel

Nordic Ecolabelling is a non-profit organization, and all income is used for running the organization.

Please read and familiarize yourself with the Fee Regulations for the Nordic Ecolabelling before submitting your application.

Application fee

You have to pay an application fee when you apply for the Nordic Swan Ecolabel. This fee will not be refunded, even if your product does not get approved. The application fee normally covers processing time on up to three occasions, i.e. one when the application is submitted and two for the processing of the supplementary documentation. The relevant national ecolabeling organization may invoice you for any additional work at the prevailing hourly rate.

On-site inspection

You have to pay an on-site inspection fee if the production site is located outside the Nordic region.

If multiple on-site inspections are necessary, for example to multiple production sites, an additional fee will be charged.

If your products or production do not fulfil our requirements at the time of the on-site inspection or on subsequent inspection, you will be invoiced the additional inspections we need to do to finalize your application.

Several product groups have restrictions on what an application can include within the standard application fee. For example, “chemical product groups” have a limitation on the number of formulas that can be included in the standard application fee. For more information on limitations, please contact us.

* For product groups with Nordic fee system: When both the applicant and the manufacturer are micro-enterprises, the fee is reduced by 50%. We define a micro-enterprise as an enterprise with less than 10 employees and an annual turnover (of both ecolabelled and not ecolabelled products) below 2 million €

** On-site inspection outside the Nordics, that last more than one working day including travel, will be invoiced 1 000 € per extra day.

Annual licence fee

When you are awarded a licence, you must pay an annual licence fee for the right to use the Nordic Swan Ecolabel. You must pay this fee in advance. The amount is based on the turnover of the Nordic Swan ecolabelled products and may be regulated/adjusted in the following year. For certain product groups, the licence fee may be based on other factors, which will then determine the fees for the licence.

The annual fee for the different product groups is stated separately. For more information, please contact us.
